Tuva Looms is named for a remote region in the heart of Central Asia with a heritage rich in rugs and textiles. These carpets are exceptional for being woven. With the face and back woven as one. Colors, textures and patterns are Conceived to work together, creating refined juxtapositions and seamless transitions.

Tuva's Products and Philosophy is to utilize woven only craftsmanship with classic, contemporary patterns, and to offer these patterns in a disciplined palette of complex neutrals to a refined aesthetically discerning market place.

Award winning designs. Tuva Looms carpets have received design recognition throughout the world, having been awarded The International Design Magazine's "Design Distinction" honor for styles "Cube" and "Symmetry", in 1999, the Chicago Athenaeum's "Good Design" award in 2000 for style "Case Study", and International Interior Design Association design competition awards in 1997 and 1998. Tuva continues to strive for the very best in modern, classic carpets..

Tuva Looms was founded on the vision and talents of two textile and carpet design professionals, Suzanne Tick and Terry Mowers, as well as the resources of an exceptional mill, Bloomsburg Carpet Industries, Inc., that is renowned for the quality of its woven carpets. Together these companies provide the best product development expertise.

Tuva Carpets combine unique fiber, yarn, and construction concepts with advanced color theory, and sophisticated design. The company is committed to providing the design industry with a beautiful product of outstanding quality for a variety of uses that meets the high-end, style conscious needs of today and tomorrow.
